The Purpose of Our College

is to help young men and women develop God-centered lives, equipped for positive service for Christ and mankind.

The college stands for the principles which have constituted the Christian faith down through the centuries: The divine inspiration of the Bible, Christ as the Son of God, the need and significance of His death as atonement for our sin, the necessity of the believer's being cleansed from sin and filled with the love of God, and the coming personal return of Christ.

SPC Traditions

are part of the personality of the school itself. We hope each new student will value and enjoy them as part of his own college life.

Ours is a Christian college, in fact as well as in name. Each student conducts himself as a Christian not from a sense of obligation or merely to comply with a set of rules, but as a natural expression of his love for Christ and His Kingdom.

The SPC "Hi." It's the custom for students to say a cheerful "Hi" to everyone they meet on the campus, whether they have been formally introduced or not.

Chapel. The "hub" of the college program is the chapel period which is held each morning. Regular attendance is expected of every student. Chapel services include not only inspiring devotional services, but also addresses by businessmen, educators, and ministers, and weekly student programs.

Vespers. This is the central, all-college worship service of the week. It is traditionally an informal service in which the students participate with their song and testimony. It is a source of strength and inspiration in the midst of the busy week.

The Lincoln Beach Outing. The first student-sponsored affair of the year is the outing at Lincoln Beach, on the first Friday afternoon and evening of the autumn quarter.

The Faculty Reception for New Students. The official presentation of new students to each other and to the faculty takes place at the semi-formal reception held the second Friday night of the autumn quarter.

The All-College Banquet. This is the most important semi-formal function of the year, usually held during the winter quarter.

The All-College Fair. One Friday evening of the year is reserved for the Fair. The gym is divided into booths where varieties of "side-shows" are presented by the classes and other organizations. Art exhibits are displayed, usually in McKinley basement. This is always a gala affair.

Open House. The rooms of dormitory students and campus housing units of single veterans are spic-and-span for the scrutiny of friends of the college on one Friday night each year.

The Royal Order of the Flying Dutchman. This organization promotes constructive criticism through public airing of student problems. Its membership is restricted to men of royal Dutch blood who have earned their wings.

Field Day. The annual contests in track and field events, followed by a picnic supper, take place late in the spring quarter, usually at North Queen Anne Bowl.

The Boat Trip. Students, faculty, alumni and friends charter a boat and spend the day cruising among the wooded islands of Puget Sound or on Lake Washington. This takes place on the last Friday of the spring quarter.

DR. C. HOYT WATSON
President of the College

Welcome:

Years and official duties are supposed by some to remove a college president beyond the possibility of companionship with students. Not so at Seattle Pacific.

I have always enjoyed the comradeship of students and trust our fellowship during the coming year will be even more splendid than in the past. Under God let us expect a wonderful year as we work together. I approach this new year with great joy and anticipation. In fact, I believe I look forward with a spirit of adventure in many ways like that of a first-year student.

As president of your college, I extend to each student, old and new alike, a sincere welcome to SPC—to its campus, its school family, its delightful fellowship! Welcome also to my office. Come in any time and say "hello." Delightful memories of my association with students in past years is my assurance that the coming year holds for us many wonderful experiences.

Our fellowship, however, can reach its highest and best only in the will of God. I pledge myself with each of you to keep God first in all the relationships and activities of our college.

Yours in Christ,
C. Hoyt Watson
President.

DR. PHILIP F. ASHTON
Dean of the College

DEAN'S GREETING

As you approach Peterson Hall you will see the words "Youth Facing Life with Christ." The spirit of this central purpose gives meaning and motivation to all the college activities—academic, spiritual, social and extra-curricular.

To you who are new to the campus, we give one big welcome and trust that your days here will be days of real challenge and accomplishment. We desire that you live the richest life possible and make every day count.

To you who are returning to the campus, we pledge our renewed determination to make this the best year yet. To do this we need the full cooperation of each of you.

Seattle Pacific will have a definite influence in your life. You can never be the same after attending but remember, too, the lives you touch while at Seattle Pacific will also be influenced by you. With Christ as ours we can make this influence real and positive.

If baffling problems arise, feel free to come into my office and talk them over.

Philip F. Ashton,
Dean.

COLLEGE SERVICES

WHEN A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND—

No doubt the flood of tests poured upon every entering Freshman during his first week on the campus causes a pain which aspirin will not relieve. The blanks you are asked to fill out seemingly inquire into your most irrelevant personal affairs—but there's a reason!

The more the college knows about your background, your previous training, your ability, your personality, the more efficiently it can help you. This impersonal appraisal of your achievements to date will aid you in planning your educational and vocational future. It will show you your strong points, and your weak points (if any).

The tests given near the close of the sophomore year will show how you are keeping up with college students of the same classification throughout the country.

In your last year of college life, before graduation, you will be required to take the Graduate Record Examination.

Other guidance facilities are also available. One source of real help is the collection of books and pamphlets found on the Guidance Book Shelf, the top shelf just left of the library door.

Here you will find new suggestions on how to study, how to get a job, how to ask for a date, how to improve your own personality. Here you will find dependable books to help you with your religious problems.

If you are wondering regarding your fitness for some particular vocation, ask the Dean of the College to give you a Vocational Interest Test. If you aren't getting A's in all courses, ask him for a Study Habits Inventory. If you honestly want to know where your personality needs improving, get him to give you a Personality Test.

Whatever your problem—mental, physical, or spiritual—remember that all the members of the faculty are ready and willing to help you to the limit of their ability. Don't hesitate to consult them. They will never betray your confidence.

IF YOU LOSE ANYTHING—

your fountain pen, purse or those hard-won History notes—or if you find something belonging to someone else, you will find the Lost and Found Department in the book store in the basement of Tiffany Hall.

IN THE STUDENT POST OFFICE—

you will have a mailbox with a combination lock which you will share with at least one other student. Here you will receive mail from the friends you left behind, graded test papers, maybe even a request for a date from the fellow too bashful to ask in person. Here, too, you can mail your letters. Check the notice at the window for post office hours.

THE LIBRARY IS FOR YOUR USE—to check out books or as a good place to study. You will want to be as quiet as possible so that others also can use it to best advantage. The library hours are:

Days:

Monday through Friday 7:50 to 5:00

Saturday 9:00 to 12:00

Evenings:

Mon., Tues., Thurs., and

Sat. 7:00 to 9:45

Wednesday 8:00 to 9:45

The library's collection consists of over 22,000 volumes, which are shelved in open stacks in the reading and periodical rooms. In addition, there are 223 current periodicals, four newspapers, and many pamphlets.

Books, with the exception of reference copies and those kept on the reserve shelf, may be borrowed for two weeks with the privilege of renewal. Magazines, other than the latest issue, circulate for one week.

Reserve books are checked out for one hour. These may be taken out for overnight use at 4:00 p.m., and are due the following morning at 8:00.

Library fines are one cent a day for over-due books and periodicals, and five cents each hour for overdue reserve books. All library fines must be paid before quarterly grades are given out.

Half of your troubles will be over if you can use the card catalog and the periodical indexes. If you are not familiar with these aids, ask the librarian or one of her assistants to explain them. Do not hesitate to ask if you cannot find the material you are looking for. The librarian or assistant at the desk will be more than glad to help you.

TELEPHONE NUMBERS—

The College telephone number is	ALder 1337
Pay Phones:
Alexander Hall	GA. 9624
Adelaide Hall	GA. 9594
Peterson Hall	GA. 9683
Tiffany Hall	GA. 9649
Watson Hall	GA. 9522

Students are requested to have their friends use the pay phones for personal calls.

THE COMMONS

The new dining room located on the ground floor of Watson Hall is called "The Commons," and is open to both dormitory and off-campus students. Meals are served cafeteria style. Breakfast hour is from 6:45 until 7:30; lunch will be served between 11:30 and 12:30; dinner time is from 5 to 6.

An auxiliary dining room located on the same floor is available for groups upon petition to Mrs. Miller.

THE SNACK BAR

In Tiffany basement the former "Rec" room has been remodeled into a Snack Bar and lounge. It will be a favorite spot for students, who can drop in afternoons and evenings for sandwiches and fountain specialties.

THE LAUNDRY

Also located in Tiffany basement, the laundry facilities are at the disposal of all campus students. Two new Bendix washing machines have been installed, and will wash one tub-full of laundry for ten cents.

WE HOPE YOU WON'T GET SICK—

but if you do, remember you are among friends. The college maintains an infirmary on the campus to which students should report if in need of medical care. It is under the supervision of the college physician and registered nurses. There is no fee for routine treatment. Illness requiring a doctor's care or hospitalization is at the expense of the student.

THE BOOKSTORE

Located in the basement of Tiffany Hall, the bookstore sells all text-books, together with school supplies, SPC pen-nants, and other items.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT—

are established for the welfare of all. Each student registers with the understanding that he is in sympathy with the purpose and spirit of the college and its standards as set forth in the catalog. Conduct out of harmony with these ideals is considered not so much an infraction of a rule as a violation of the student's pledged word.

SCHOLARSHIP

DON'T BE MISLED—

by those who advise you not to "let your studies interfere with your education." When you reach for that diploma after four strenuous years, you'll be glad for the solid backing of a goodly number of A's and B's, to say nothing of the use you will find for your academic background in the years to come.

A "QUARTER HOUR" OF ACADEMIC WORK—

means one hour per week of lecture or recitation throughout a whole quarter. In laboratory courses, two hours of lab work is usually equivalent to one hour of classroom work. Most students find it desirable to devote two hours of outside study for each hour of lecture or recitation. One hundred eighty quarter hours are required for graduation.

YOU WILL SAVE YOURSELF A LOT OF GRIEF—

in the future, by studying carefully the graduation requirements given in the college catalog, and, with the aid of your adviser, mapping your future academic work as carefully as possible. You don't want to fail to graduate with your class because somewhere down the line you failed to get in five hours of Fine Arts, for instance:

WHAT ABOUT GRADES?

Grade	Explanation	Grade Points
A	Very superior work	4
B	Well above average work	3
C	Average performance	2
D	Lowest passing grade	1
E	Final failure	0
W	Withdrawal	0
I	Incomplete (must be made up or becomes an E)	0
UW	Unofficial withdrawal	0

The average number of grade points earned for each hour of work during a quarter is called the "grade score." A grade score of at least 2.00 must be maintained if the student is to graduate, receive a teaching certificate, or do cadet teaching. To be eligible for inter-collegiate sports, a grade point of at least 1.75 must be maintained.

OF WHICH CLASS AM I A MEMBER?

Freshmen: Students with less than 45 credits, physical education included.

Sophomores: Students with at least 45 credits, physical education included, and less than 90 credits.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

These are an important part of a college education, not only because of the training received and the friendships gained, but because of the worthwhile contributions each of us can make to the lives of our fellow-students. There are many fields open for participation, so look about and discover those which particularly interest you. Don't make the error of attempting so much that nothing is done well, but try to do something really worthwhile in the fields you do choose.

THE AWARDS PROGRAM—is designed to stimulate participation in extra-curricular activities by every student. Activities in which points toward awards may be earned include Athletics, Forensics, Music, Religious Service, Publications and Student Body Affairs.

A major letter-award will be given to every student who has accumulated 150 points. The athletic letters are in "block" style and the letter for other activities in "Old English." A sweater is given to the student who has earned a total of 850 points, including at least 200 in the current year. A blanket is awarded the student who has earned at least 1250 points during his four years at SPC.

At the beginning of the year you will be given a copy of the schedule prepared by the faculty awards committee which lists in detail how points are earned and computed.

WHEN YOU PLAN A SOCIAL AFFAIR

—work with your class or group officers and committees in arranging the type and location of parties, and the expenses they involve.

Secure a petition blank from the registrar's office. See that it is filled out and signed by the class officers and sponsor, and presented to the faculty social committee chairman not later than three school days preceding the proposed function.

All other petition blanks may be obtained in the registrar's office also.

It has been the practice to open or close social affairs with prayer. Any function at which this cannot consistently be done is not consistent with the ideals of our school.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

Membership in ASSPC is automatically obtained by all students when they register.

Officers are elected near the close of the previous school year. Officers for 1948-49 are:

President	Leonard Root
Vice-President	Betty Jean Blyth
Secretary	Ruth Denison
Treasurer	Robert Dixon
Yell King	Philip Capp

Five departmental directors, appointed by the president of the association, are immediately responsible for the conduct of the various activities of the student body. They are the Religion Director, Athletic Director, Social Director, Forensic Director, and Publicity Director.

Publications editors are recommended by retiring editors, and receive office on approval of Student Council. Editors of 1948-49 are:

The Seattle Pacific Falcon	Dorothea Hurst
The Cascade	Edith Biddulph
	Elda Rae McKindley

The Student Council is the governing body of the student association. It shapes the policies, guides the activities, and budgets finances for the student body. All students are encouraged to take part in discussion of issues which are before the student council and to make themselves felt in student affairs. Members of the council are the president, vice-president, treasurer, the five directors of student activities, the Falcon business manager, the Cascade editor, three elected representatives from each of the four classes, and the faculty representative. All students are welcome to attend all meetings.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Close to the hearts of all women students is the organization to which each of them belongs, the Associated Women Students. With the chief aim of coming together for fun and Christ-centered fellowship and creating a closer friendship between on-campus and off-campus women students, the association meets on Thursdays once a month. The programs range in theme from cultural, informative ones to those with a humorous theme. They are augmented by activities such as the autumn tea, exchanging of lunches between on-campus and off-campus women, "Heart Sister Week" in February, the annual breakfast hike in the spring quarter, the spring luncheon in honor of the senior women, and the monthly party for the girls at the Martha Washington Home.

To each one of you new women students, a welcome to join in the activities and inspiration that are found in AWS comes from all officers, "old" students, and the adviser, Mrs. Lawrence R. Schoenhals.

Early in the school year each class gets together and elects its officers—president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, representatives to student council, and men's and women's athletic directors. Also, two faculty members are nominated by the class for appointment as adviser. These names are submitted to the president of the college, who selects one to work with the class throughout the year.

All class functions are to be planned in consultation with the class sponsor, and must be approved by the faculty social committee upon presentation of a petition.

Certain evenings during the year are set aside for class outings and parties. These are almost always held on Fridays.

CLASS DUTIES

Freshmen. Freshmen carry the handbook during their first quarter and learn its contents.

Freshmen, as well as all other new students, learn the school song by heart and sing it lustily when called upon to do so at student assemblies. It is customary to stand while singing the school song. The words are given on page 50 of this handbook.

The Frosh have profound reverence for the sophomores and tender them scrupulous obedience—anyway, during Freshman initiation.

During the spring quarter, the Freshman Class sponsors a party at which the sophomores are guests.

Sophomores. The Sophomore Class is immediately responsible for seeing that the incoming freshmen are faithful in carrying on their part of school tradition.

The sophomores are responsible for clean-up and for arranging transportation for the Lincoln Beach outing in the autumn quarter.

The sophomores conduct the initiation ceremonies for the Frosh at a welcome party in the autumn quarter.

The sophomores provide the two meals served on the annual boat trip in June.

Juniors. Juniors are responsible for planning and serving the meal at the Lincoln Beach outing in the autumn.

When the seniors are absent on their "skip," the juniors occupy the seats of honor in assembly and sponsor the chapel service for that day.

The juniors are hosts to the seniors at the semi-formal Junior-Senior Banquet in the spring.

Juniors make the ivy chain for the ivy-cutting ceremony during Commencement Week.

The juniors decorate the auditorium for Commencement exercises.

Seniors. The Senior Class is responsible for the program at the Lincoln Beach outing in the autumn.

Seniors are hosts to the juniors at a party held during the autumn quarter.

One weekend in spring the seniors disappear from school on their annual "Skip."

Seniors assist the faculty in arranging the various programs of Commencement Week.

"Ours is a Christian college . . ."

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

JOY IN WORSHIP—

is found on the campus of SPC, where religion is more than mere formality, custom or regulation.

In the rush of college activities, the student finds a regular period of private devotion each day the most essential part of his Christian life.

The daily chapel service helps each student look to Christ as the center of his daily life.

Among the opportunities for finding and expressing the Christian life is the Wednesday Vesper Service.

A strong evangelistic spirit is present on the campus throughout the year. In the autumn and again in the spring a series of special evangelistic services is held in connection with the daily chapel service, in an effort to assist students in finding a deeper spiritual life.

At the all-school prayer service held each Tuesday at 12:30, students thank God for His blessing and present to Him their needs.

SPC students attend the Sunday School and church of their choice on Sunday. The college church across the street offers a warm welcome to all.

Work in Churches. Many calls come to the Department of Religion for Sunday School teachers, speakers, leaders of youth groups, and other special services; and to the School of Music for song leaders, choir members, and musicians.

Foreign Missions Fellowship. This is a group of missionary-minded young people. Membership is not restricted to those who are definitely training for missionary service as their life work, but all who are interested in Christian service are invited to join. Meetings are held at frequent intervals during the year. Missionaries home on furlough are often secured to give information and inspiration concerning their particular fields.

The goal of the FMF is to present the needs of the mission fields, both at home and abroad, to the student body. The SPC chapter is affiliated with the national organization of the Foreign Missions Fellowship and the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.

The FMF sends out gospel teams to tell the message of Christ, and its prayer bands study and pray for the needs of the missionary fields in which the members have a special interest.

The Watchmen. The men who attend college with the purpose of studying for the ministry compose the Watchmen's organization. Their activities include preparation and introduction of the student Bible-reading program, sponsoring the Friday noon prayer meeting (to which all students are invited), and the work of the gospel teams in local missions. In addition, Watchmen have many opportunities to speak in church services and young people's meetings, do Sunday School work and take regular preaching appointments. Their influence is an outstanding contribution to the spiritual life of our college.

FISHER MEMORIAL PRAYER CHAPEL

—in Peterson Hall has been requested by many students of former years. This year we have such a room where we may gather in small groups or alone and take time to pray. The room adjoins Marston Chapel on the main floor of Peterson Hall.

Students are encouraged to use the prayer room at any time. Undoubtedly we will feel the results of more prayer in the spiritual life of the campus.

FORENSICS

SPC has traditionally ranked high among Northwest colleges in forensic activities. You will find enjoyment and worthwhile experience in intercollegiate contests in debate, oratory, extemporaneous and impromptu speaking, interpretive reading, after-dinner speaking, forums and round-table discussions.

These contests are under the supervision of the SPC chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary organization.

All students are urged to turn out and seek places on the teams. Those doing outstanding work during the year are recommended for the honor of membership in Pi Kappa Delta.

SPC sends representatives to the national Pi Kappa Delta tournament held every other year, and the regional tournament held alternate years. Our college takes part in the annual College of Puget Sound tournament in Tacoma, the Linfield College tournament in Oregon, and contests in California. In addition, there are numerous practice tournaments and intramural contests. All in all, speech teams have turned out to be the "travelingest" of all teams representing SPC.

PUBLICATIONS

Practical journalism and business experience may be gained on SPC's two publications — The Seattle Pacific Falcon, bi-weekly paper, and The Cascade, college yearbook.

News reporters, feature writers, proof-readers, typists, and business-staff personnel find places on The Falcon, which tries not only to record events on the campus but to express student opinion on matters of college interest. If you would like to serve on the paper in any capacity, be sure to get in touch with the editor as early in the school year as possible.

A tremendous amount of work goes into the publication of The Cascade, treasured by every SPC student as a diary in word and picture of the activities of the school year. Although the yearbook comes out in June, work begins early. If you are interested in writing, photography, art, advertising or other work on the book, please contact the editor or business manager.

MUSIC

Music occupies an important place in both the curricular and extra-curricular program at SPC. A well-trained music faculty helps students develop their talents to the utmost. Opportunity is given early in the school year to try out for various vocal and instrumental groups. The following groups help students express their musical talent:

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY—

is the largest musical organization in school. Membership is open to all students. Two concerts, one in December and the other in June, are given each year. Members of the society meet one evening each week, and earn academic credit of one-half hour per quarter for their work. Last year the society had nearly 200 members.

THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR—makes extensive and detailed study of choral music. The limited membership is chosen through special try-outs from a large number of applicants. One extended tour is made each year, usually between winter and spring quarters.

Last year the choir toured extensively throughout the State of Washington.

The choir meets three afternoons a week. In addition, its members are required to sing with the Oratorio Society. A credit of one academic hour per quarter is given.

QUARTETS AND TRIOS—are outstanding among the musical groups of the college. Tryouts for the "first-string" Victory Male Quartet are held early in the autumn quarter. The "Victory Boys" have earned an enviable reputation throughout the Northwest, receiving singing appointments each weekend, together with many engagements for radio programs. They are members of the A Cappella Choir and have thrilled many audiences during concert intermissions with their harmony.

A "Clarion" male quartet and ladies' trios and quartets are usually organized. In addition, the various gospel teams have organized trios and quartets.

THE ORCHESTRA—

provides experience and training for those interested in instrumental music. Regular practice sessions are held twice a week and several concerts are presented during the year. One hour of academic credit is given for each quarter.

In addition to the orchestra, smaller ensembles often appear in public performances both on and off the campus.

THE BAND—

supplies music for athletic events and student rallies, besides presenting several concerts during the school year. All those interested are urged to contact the director.

RECITALS—

are given each year by vocal, piano, and organ students of the School of Music. All students are encouraged to come and bring their friends.

"Christian sportsmanship—healthy bodies"

MEN'S ATHLETICS

CHRISTIAN SPORTSMANSHIP—

and building of healthy bodies are the aims of the SPC athletic program. The college looks forward to a big year in both intercollegiate and intramural sports under the guidance of our athletic director, Coach McNeese. Although competition is keen for places on varsity teams, there is a place for everyone on intramural squads. Coach McNeese is especially anxious to give all students a chance to participate. If you aren't playing, turn out and root for the college or your class—win or lose, you'll be proud of the Falcons as they show that the spirit of Christ can be displayed in the gym or on the diamond as well as in chapel.

MAJOR VARSITY ATHLETICS

Basketball is the big sport from November to March. A full schedule of games with other Northwest colleges of our class has been arranged. All men maintaining a grade score of 1.75 or above are eligible for participation. A junior varsity team is selected and intercollegiate games are played.

Baseball is a major intercollegiate sport at SPC. Last year the Falcons played a schedule of 22 games. A stronger schedule will be arranged for next spring.

MINOR VARSITY ATHLETICS

Tennis. From the fall tennis tournament a varsity team is chosen and intercollegiate games are arranged for in the spring quarter. Minor letters are awarded varsity players.

Track and field. Two intramural meets are held in the spring from which a varsity is selected to represent SPC in intercollegiate meets. Minor letters are awarded to those participating in intercollegiate meets.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Last year the Sophomores dominated the intramural program by winning touch football, basketball, and volleyball, but all classes bowed to the Juniors in fastball. North Queen Anne Bowl near the college is used for touch football and fastball.

Intramural sports not only provide valuable experience for those who later make the varsity, but permit recreation for all and the development of skills for participation in after-college days.

This year a Red and White series will be introduced furnishing more of a competitive spirit in each of the intramural sports.

Touch football, played during October and November, is fast and rough.

Basketball is played on a large scale during the latter part of fall and winter quarters and provides not only active play but passive recreation. Games are scheduled three nights a week following dinner hour.

Volleyball, an active and a scientific game, takes the limelight for the three week period between basketball and baseball seasons.

Fastball provides plenty of activity and competition for those students who are not playing baseball.

Track and field. Two intramural meets are held each spring from which a varsity team is chosen.

Tennis. There is an interclass tennis tournament each fall.

Table tennis. Interclass competition is provided by a table tennis tournament during winter quarter.

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

SPC provides a full program of athletics for all women who desire to take part. Besides the intramural team sports such as tennis, table tennis, archery, and badminton.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

The women as well as the men will enjoy a Red and White series in all intramural athletics.

The regular interclass sports provide for competition among the classes, each class being represented by one or more teams. Members of each team choose their own captain.

Basketball will begin in November, holding the spotlight of sport interest until March.

Volleyball will be the activity between basketball and fastball seasons.

Fastball is a great favorite with many girls. This sport will come in the spring.

Track and field. Interclass meets take place in the spring.

*"In our hearts we'll ever cherish
thoughts of S. P. C."*

ORGANIZATIONS

THE ALEXANDRIANS—

are the men who live in Alexander Hall and the housing units for single veterans on or bordering the campus. Among their social activities are special breakfasts featuring faculty members or other speakers, and discussion periods. The weekly prayer meetings for each floor of the dormitory and each housing unit are a source of strength and inspiration to the Alexandrians.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN—

is the Deutsch way of saying German Club. This organization consists of students of German and all others interested in use of the German language. Last year the club arranged several programs which made up in hilarity for what they lacked in German culture.

ETA PI ALPHA—

is the SPC chapter of the Future Teachers of America, and aims to promote a professional spirit and fellowship among students preparing to teach.

Members automatically receive junior membership in the National and Washington Educational Associations.

EUTERPEANS—

is composed of all students interested in promotion of musical culture and appreciation, and sponsors several musical programs throughout the year, displaying student talent.

FALCONETTES—

is a women's service honorary, whose purpose is to encourage women students to strive towards the ideal in leadership, scholarship, character and activities. Girls are selected for this group on the basis of Christian character, scholarship and activities. The cumulative grade score must be at least 2.50, and the applicant must have participated in at least two activities. Membership is limited to upper-class women. The annual project for the club is the purchase of a gift for the college.

MADIGRALS—

are a group of music-minded students who meet once a week to sing, unaccompanied, the songs of Shakespeare's era. Because of the type of music, membership is limited. Applications can be made when there are vacancies. This club presents a chapel program several times each school year.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB—

is a valuable aid in obtaining a clearer understanding of world problems. Its meetings feature warm discussions and well-qualified speakers. Representatives are sent each year to the Northwest Regional Conference of International Clubs. The club also aids in conducting the poll of student opinion sponsored by the Pacific Northwest College Congress, of which SPC is a member.

ORDER OF THE S—

composed of athletic lettermen, is a tower of strength behind the athletic activities of the college, promoting interest in athletic contests and extension of the sports program.

PI MU GAMMAS—

are the residents of the women's dormitories — Adelaide, Tiffany and Watson Halls. The girls who live, eat and study together also sponsor various social functions. Especially helpful are the prayer services organized among the girls of each floor. Officers are elected during the spring quarter to serve the following year.

CLUB DE SANTE—

is the organization of women preparing for the nursing profession. Besides interests of a professional character, the future nurses by their social activities prove that the nurse's life is not all drudgery.

SKI CLUB—

gives SPC ski enthusiasts opportunity, when the snow is right, to invade the popular mountain ski spots and enjoy their favorite sport. Combined operations keep costs down.

THETA BETA—

is the home economics club, the members of which aid in a better understanding of the finer points of social etiquette. Its chapel programs have been especially helpful to all students.

Alma Mater

Midst the mountains of the Westland
Near the rolling sea,
Beacon light that shineth ever
Is our S. P. C.

Chorus

Join the chorus, waft it onward
Until all shall see,
Standing true amid all others
Dear old S. P. C.

Light thou sheddest on our pathway.
Lessons learned of thee—
In our hearts we'll ever cherish
Thoughts of S. P. C.

Alma Mater, kindest mother,
May thy children be Faithful sons and truest daughters
Of old S. P. C.

The Spirit of SPC

They cleared a spot in the wilderness,
Where sunset greets the sea;
They built a school with a prayer-driven tool,
And a vision for youth to be.
Founded on truth and holiness,
On love and loyalty,
While its students learn their glad hearts burn
With the spirit of SPC.

Chorus

Echo it long, with a faith deep and strong,
From mighty Rainier to the turbulent sea;
"Youth facing life with a risen Christ";
'Tis the spirit of SPC.

Though life's cold embers find us far
From SPC's bright scenes;
Our duties grim, we know in Him
Joys more than idle dreams,
We'll face the future unafraid,
Our heart and conscience free,
Giving God the praise for college days
And the spirit of SPC.
